MEDICINE

Paul Milton, President & CEO

Keeping an Eye to the Future

As we continue to rally all of our resources to address the acute crisis currently impacting our community - and nation, we must keep an eye to the future, so that we can continue to provide the best care to our patients for decades to come.

"As health care leaders in our region, we always look ahead with a focus on what's best for the long-term health of our communities, and evaluate how we are delivering care today and how care can best be delivered in the future," says Paul Milton, President and CEO of Ellis Medicine. "We owe it to the people of the Capital Region to do so."

The past year was pivotal. Ellis' staff served the community during one of the most severe pandemics in our history, and we initiated two major strategic partnerships that will ensure our ability to meet the medical needs of the community with innovative, cutting-edge treatments, the most experienced practitioners, and the closest, most convenient local care centers.

ROSWELL PARK COMPREHENSIVE CANCER CENTER

Ellis is now partnering with Roswell Park Comprehensive Cancer Center. This collaboration, with a leading and recognized National Cancer Institute-designated center, will improve access to life-saving cancer care in our region for generations to come.

Ellis is creating a medical oncology center that will open on the Nott Street campus this summer. Staffed by Roswell physicians and Ellis clinicians, it will expand regional access to the services and expertise of Roswell Park.

Construction of the 6,000 sq. foot suite will support medical oncology and chemotherapy services, a 12-chair infusion bay, six exam rooms, support groups, and a team of Oncology experts from Ellis and Roswell Park.

Our patients will now have easier access to clinical trials which lead to innovative treatments, as well as the comfort of experienced, compassionate, patient-centered care, close to home. Along with state-of-the-art medical care, Roswell Park brings with it excellent outreach programs, including community education, cancer prevention, clinical care, and professional education.

ST. PETER'S HEALTH PARTNERS

Last year the Ellis Medicine Board of Trustees signed a letter of intent to explore a partnership with St. Peter's Health Partners (SPHP).

The letter of intent moves forward a long-existing relationship between the two health care systems. SPHP and Ellis have worked closely for years on many initiatives including the Innovative Health Alliance of New York (IHANY) and The Alliance for Better Health.

A partnership with St. Peter's Health Partners provides Ellis with access to additional financial and clinical resources that will aid in recruiting physicians, nurses and other providers. Ellis Medicine and St. Peter's Health Partners share a similar culture and community. A collaboration will also increase resources for patients and our community.

Driving these discussions is a shared desire to develop a system that better meets the needs of the community. It will allow us to examine how - together - we can expand and enhance the availability of high-quality health care services in the Capital Region. The signing is the first step in a careful review process.

As progress is made, it is important you know all donations made to Ellis will benefit Ellis and stay in our community, regardless of any affiliation. Your continued support will always be used as you direct.

We are excited about the bright future that lies ahead for Ellis and our ability to bring a full spectrum of comprehensive care to our patients today and tomorrow. Your support makes all of this possible. Thank you. ●

Our Community Showed Up to Care for Us

COVID-19 presented challenges to the world, and our own community that we have never face before. This has been a time of uncertainty, grief and fear, but also a time of unification, strength, resolve and courage.

As doctors, nurses, and caregivers bravely tend the sick, countless community members and businesses stepped up to provide essentials to our staff, enabling them to do their jobs safely, and boosting their morale by sustaining their minds, bodies, and spirits through long hours on the frontlines of the pandemic.

Ellis has received donations of more than 35,000 pieces of personal protective equipment (PPE), 12,000 meals, countless gift cards, handmade artwork, and cards of encouragement for our hardworking staff, in addition to generous financial support.

At Ellis, we relish our role as caregivers to our community, but over this last year, our community showed up to care for us.

This extraordinary outpouring of support has confirmed what those of us at Ellis have always believed—we are a fellowship of neighbors. When we all work together, we can face anything.

We are profoundly grateful for your support.

Turning to the Expert, David Liebers, MD

Dr. David Liebers,
Chief Medical Officer
and Vice President of Quality Services/Medical Affairs.

In times of uncertainty, we turn to experts we can trust for knowledge and guidance – that expert for us has been David Liebers, MD.

Dr. Liebers joined Ellis Medicine as an infectious disease specialist in 1987. During his tenure he has held numerous leadership positions, including Chief of Staff and his current role as Chief Medical Officer and Vice President of Quality Services/Medical Affairs.

Dr. Liebers has been our community's own Dr. Fauci, following CDC, national, state and county leaders and communicating the disease, safeguards and other guidelines for our understanding. His calm demeanor, insight, sound advice and reassurance brings comfort when we have needed it most.

The pandemic is an ongoing and ever-evolving situation. For the latest information tune into Dr. Liebers' regular video communications on Ellismedicine.org and our Ellis Medicine YouTube Channel. If you wish to be added to our mailing list to receive the latest video updates directly to your inbox, please email freare@ellismedicine.org.

Dr. Liebers encourages everyone to continue to wear a mask, wash your hands, avoid large gatherings, and maintain physical distance from others whenever possible.

We are grateful to Dr. Liebers for his confident and competent leadership.

February is Heart Month!

Heart Disease is one of the leading causes of death in the United States. While the statistics may be sobering, there are lots of simple ways to work on your heart health and positively impact your overall wellness. Kelly Parkes, Physician Assistant in the Ellis Medicine Cardiac Catheterization Lab, offers these tips for increasing your heart health and staving off heart disease:

As a leading cardiac program, The Wright Heart Center at Ellis is ready to care for you and your family. To learn more about cardiac health or how you can support heart health, visit www.ellismedicine.org

Heart Health Tips

Stay active, aim for 30 minutes a day of an activity that raises your heart rate

Eat plenty of fruits and vegetables

Reduce salt in your diet, and pay attention to sodium found in canned goods, frozen dinners, and restaurant meals

Make sure to get enough sleep

Avoid smoking and secondhand smoke

Stay hydrated

Planning for the Future...

The future of Ellis Medicine is bright because of the actions of a few...

Individuals and families who choose to leave a legacy, a future gift, to Ellis Medicine ensure that local, dependable, outstanding health care has a solid footing in our community.

Kenneth and Thelma Lally exemplified this kind of foresight and generosity in their lifetimes, and as a result, their impact continues to this day. Throughout their 65 year marriage, Ken and Thelma championed many local institutions and organizations that spoke to their values and passions, Ellis among them. This hardworking couple rose from humble beginnings to a position of tremendous influence in our community. They were unselfishly generous with their energy and support.

Almost 10 years after their passing, the Lallys continue to aid and impact our community through a trust that they created while they were alive.

Ellis' 1885 Society honors exactly this kind of planned gift. The 1885 Society recognizes individuals who have made a plan to leave a legacy gift to The Foundation through their estate plans. Becoming a member is simple and comes with many benefits, including guidance on how to best allocate your gift, invitations to special events, recognition by Ellis in our publications, and potentially significant tax deductions.

More importantly, knowing that you will help future generations of Ellis patients receive unparalleled care in their times of need, just as the Lallys did, is a community-wide benefit.

Ken and Thelma Lally passed away almost a decade ago, but the generosity they showed throughout their lives still impacts us all today. We are deeply grateful for their support. ●
